

Cellular Solutions Signal Enhancing Specialists, LLC and Cellphone-Mate Inc Announce Strategic Partnership

New relationship allows two industry leaders to offer better solutions

August 2, 2010 – Cellphone-Mate Inc, one of the leading providers of cell phone amplifiers and accessories and Cellular Solutions, the renowned industry leader in in-building wireless solutions today announced a new strategic relationship. This partnership will include strategic marketing, collaboration on understanding customer requirements for cellular amplifiers for future research and development, and targeted sales programs.

This strategic partnership will allow Cellular Solutions to offer the best in-building cellular coverage systems on the market to their customers with the Cellphone-Mate product line. “We feel humbled and honored to be chosen as Cellular Solution's preferred vendor on after market in-building amplifier systems” said Hongtao Zhan, President of Cellphone-Mate Inc. “We realize it's a great responsibility to support such an important customer with 90% of their amplifiers in the consumer, SOHO and low end business market. We have full confidence that they will be able to provide dealers nationwide with the best and most cost-effective solution based on our SureCall™ amplifiers.

Cellphone-Mate's highly innovative products have the highest quality in the industry with unique features that customers love. Their two year warranty also sets them apart from the competitors. Cellular Solutions President Aimee King said “Overall, we believe their products offer our customers the best value and are excited about this strategic partnership. Since Cellphone-Mate offers a complete line of amplifiers approved by the FCC, we have chosen them to be our preferred vendor in aftermarket amplifier systems.”
